

The Shape Project

(Service Users Help All the People Get Educated)

Robert Hawken, Co-Chair of the Learning Disability Partnership Board, and Devon People First need your help.

Are you interested in helping service users to plan training?

Do you want to find out how you can help us?

We are a group of people with learning difficulties that will be giving training to community organisations. We want to help the people who work for community organisations to understand the needs of people with learning difficulties.

You can help us by answering some questions.

We want you to tell us your ideas. We want to understand what people with learning difficulties and carers think community organisations need to know. Your ideas are important. We will use your ideas to plan our training and to make sure it is what people want.
