

Who are we and what do we do?

We are a group that supports people with learning disabilities to speak up for themselves about things that are important to them.

We also support groups of people with learning disabilities to speak up for themselves.

We speak up on issues which are important to people with learning disabilities, like housing, transport and bullying.

While we are new to Devon, we are part of a bigger organization called Central England People First, which has been doing this since 1990.

We do training for people with learning disabilities and for people working with them. For example we have trained social services staff.

We also campaign to make things better for people with learning disabilities, arrange conferences, find out what people with learning disabilities want to happen in their lives, and make information easy to understand for them.
