What do I have to do?

Your ears should be clear of wax before you attend your appointment.

If you have wax in your ears, you may want to make an appointment with the nurse at your doctor's practice who will give you some ear drops to help soften the wax and it may come out on its own.

If the eardrops do not get the wax out, the nurse at your doctor's practice may remove it, or the ENT doctor / nurse may take the wax out at the hospital.
